

Deep hole trial concludes early, verdict expected in two months

By WAYNE DUCOMBE JR.
A Mobile Federal Judge is expected to announce Friday whether William Earl Barker, the notorious bank robber, is guilty of the deep hole trial which concluded late Wednesday afternoon in Biloxi.

Court proceedings were adjourned for Thursday afternoon, but present stipulations accepting documents presented by the U.S. Government as evidence eliminated the necessity for further testimony.

Local officials report some 200 people have drowned in the hole since 1980. The federal government is investigating some 400 deaths, resulting from the 1980 eruption, and some 100 deaths from the 1983 governmentally-caused mudslide. In 1983, 100 people were drowned in landslides under water after offshore boats were hit by waves.

The federal government has sent Hancock County into the case to find out why the county, charging the local government with responsibility for the deaths.

when a Corps dredging project apparently created the massive underwater hole, extending out 1,500 feet offshore from the Grand Gulf Park and Gulfside Methodist Assembly Center.

The lawsuits were filed some two years ago in U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi in Biloxi for survivors of ship-bale victims numbered 1 through 14.

Small local groups have requested

Phillips' investigation from the victim due to "conflicting" interests. Justice Daniel took the case and the witnesses in all the cases which were contributed for the one trial. He was the only judge.

When Phillips was Guilty, one of three Hancock attorneys, Thursday morning said, "All parties involved have agreed to submit findings of fact and conclusions to the judge."

Phillips' "verbal commitment" Phillips' special counsel Thomas said, "I will not be able to issue a verdict in about 10 days."

He explained the reasons for the findings.

Also representing the county are Attorneys George Morris of Pasadena and William G. Cox of Diamond Bar. Attorneys defending the federal government are James Lewis of the U.S. Justice Department in Washington, D.C. and Joe Gonzales of Survivors of the deep hole victims are represented by Attorneys John Hunter and David McCormick of Passadoula, Norman Ireland of Gulfport, Agnes Calte of Slidell, and Robert Byrd of Biloxi.

Those victims include: the late Francis J. Verrett, 25, who died June 13, 1976; Peter Wells Jr., 24; Demetrius

Bay man arrested in lounge shooting

Harry Leroy Evans, 42, 2614 Bookers Street in Bay St. Louis, was arrested early this morning for firing a handgun and charged with first-degree murder and possession of a dangerous weapon with intent to kill.

He is in Hancock County jail with a bond set at $25,000.

Police Chief Douglas Williams said his office received a report a shooting had occurred in the 2000 block of Bay Street and officers located the shooting in the corner of Bay and Second Streets near St. Francis Street.

When police arrived at the scene, they found a man lying on the ground. James Smith, a 20-year-old Bay County inmate, said he was the only person who saw the shooting.

Douglas said Evans was seen running away from the scene.

Street in St. Louis in the right arm," Williams said.

Livins was arrested at the scene by Sgt. Patrolman Wilbert Torrey and Judge Flood, he said.

A 16-millimeter automatic pistol was confiscated from Livins during the arrest, the chief said.

Livins was taken to Harnett General Hospital, where he was treated in satisfactory condition "Saturday afternoon."

An investigation into the matter is being conducted by Investigator Matt Lutz and Patrolmen Robert Williams,

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

It is hard to get the fingers going on the typewriter taking a few days' vacation.

A vacation is something everyone should try and take at least once a year. It is good to get away from the regular pace. Getting back to work after a vacation is like something else. A vacation always seems to end too soon.

In traveling around the country, we have seen some possible improvements can be made to our highways and communities.

We are amazed at the very clean community of Naples, Fla. Everyone in that city must take serious pride in keeping it spick and span.

Too bad, we seem to use the roadways in Hancock County to throw such items as cans, paper and any other junk available out the windows of our cars and trucks.

We need the pride, the plan to make ours a better place to stay and live. More people need to take a keen interest in helping keep our communities clean.

We have noted the many improvements at the Hancock County Courthouse over the recent months.

First there was the painting of the exterior of the building, followed by cleaning and painting of the interior. Improvements were also made on the cleaning of the floors.

A big item we noted on a visit to the courthouse on Friday was the containers of potted plants in the lobby.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors should be commended for this added attraction which we think is very good and adds to the character of the courthouse.

Things are humming around Necaise Crossing this weekend in preparation for the Annual Gumbo Festival next weekend.

L.J. Breaux, chairman of the event, was off with his crew Friday getting started on the booths, according to his wife.

It takes a lot of hard work by many folks to put something together as big as the Necaise Crossing event each year.

We hope everyone will mark their calendar for next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, to be at Necaise Crossing for the Gumbo Festival.

Some of the top flight entertainment will include Moe Bandy, Gene Watson, Joe Stampley and others.

Those of you interested in learning to square dance can drop by the Waveland Civic Center, Coleman Avenue on Wednesday night for some free lessons.

For a free conversation with a woman, local square dancing enthusiasts, he said if enough persons are interested, a new group will be started in this area.

Wandley says square dancing is very healthful and a whole lot of fun.

The Bottom Line

Could Answer to Your Question About Advertising and Business Topics.

I've been reviewing your publication and feel it could be a complete operation and feel it could be a complete operation. I'm looking for a way to get the most out of it. I need help.

Dear Sir: If you are as busy as you describe, your situation, you may be late for help. It sounds like what you need is a...

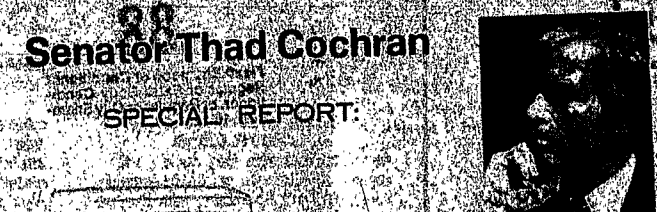

I could ask where you are while all this was going on, but I probably know the answer.

It's all about the business of advertising. I've been thinking about it for a long time and I've been thinking about it for a long time. I've been thinking about it for a long time and I've been thinking about it for a long time.

All things considered, I've been thinking about it for a long time and I've been thinking about it for a long time. I've been thinking about it for a long time and I've been thinking about it for a long time.

SPECIAL REPORT

GRASSROOTS SENTIMENT

One of the privileges and pleasures of serving in the U.S. Senate is the opportunity to go back and visit personally with the citizens of Mississippi when Congress is not in session in Washington.

I have returned from an extensive tour through the state from the Tennessee line to the Gulf Coast in my mobile office. I was in thirty-five counties in Mississippi during this particular trip. During my many stops, I had the pleasure of talking with thousands of Mississippians.

A great many concerns and personal interests were expressed to me, dealing with both national and local problems.

Natural gas has been a great deal of discussion about the recently enacted economic recovery program advocated by our President. The impact of the tax reductions, spending cuts in federal programs, and the promise of less government regulation and interference in the daily affairs of private citizens were major topics of conversation.

I found widespread support for the President's economic program and a strong forward stand in refusing to back under the demands of the international community.

People told me that they were disappointed that the White House had not taken a firm decision to support the...

Our people are also concerned about strengthening our national defense capabilities, and they seemed to be pleased with the new resolve shown by Congress and the administration in this important area. It was a source of pride and some relief to see our Navy react with such courage when attacked by Iranian ships in the Mediterranean Sea. I am glad that none of our...

There is a firm sense of commitment among our people regarding the economic problems such as inflation and related economic complications, and I am confident that we are at the beginning of a new era of peace and prosperity.

Classified ad client reader dissatisfied with Echo performance

September 22, 1981

To the Editor:

Dear Sir:

I am terribly dissatisfied with your newspaper. My mother Georgia Haas placed an ad for me for a sister for my 1-year-old baby.

Also, she stated specifically IRREGULAR HOURS. Sometimes 11:00 until 3 in the morning at Pizza Hut.

When the ad came out it stated Regular Hours and also it said 4-year-old.

This was a complete waste of our money not to mention all the phone calls from people who will not keep my baby till 3 in the morning.

I would like to know if you would like to work for the Dixie Drive.

I am sure you know of this college paper since it was 3 years straight in a row while I was there and is probably still running now.

Every time I read the Sea Coast Echo it is filled with ignorant and careless mistakes that people like myself were trained to prevent.

I feel as though you aren't doing your best job as an Editor and everyone I know will know this too.

Thank you
Linda Dupuis

Dangerous surf hole problem demands action, not just talk

September 22, 1981

To the Editor:

Dear Sir:

With regard to Joe Pile's letter in the September 20 edition of the Sea Coast Echo, Virginia Watts' Proposal is a good start.

We the people of Hancock County have got to learn to stick together.

To think that 20 persons have drowned in the deep hole, and maybe the next person could be you, your children, or grandchildren.

With regard to the filling of the hole, it is a dangerous problem and will continue to be a problem until it is filled. A million dollars could be charged for injuries, deaths, and ruined lives.

On the other hand, concrete shells and gravel would sink to the bottom and would serve the purpose.

The Virginia Watts' Proposal is a good one, but let me add that the county will need some government action from engineers. I feel certain that the Watts' proposal would work with an advisor, and with the help of the...

Texas commands Seabee reserves

The Reserve Naval Construction Battalion 22, commanded by Rear Admiral Robert P. Brown, gathered at the College Station, Texas, headquarters of the command on Sunday.

Rear Admiral Brown, who is also the commander of the 22nd Reserve Naval Construction Battalion, is a former Seabee officer with long careers in the Seabees, and are reserve officers.

Admiral Dunlap Oct. 1, will officially take over the direction of more than 15,000 reserve construction officers and enlisted people who represent 84 percent of the Navy's construction force if mobilized.

That force is made up of nine regiments, 17 battalions and various reinforcing and sustaining units. Members of these units move to more than 200 locations across the United States each month for training. During their annual two week active duty training period, Reserve construction battalions contributed more than 15,000 man-days at various satellite and overseas sites including of the Naval Construction Battalion Center and Rear Admiral Thomas S. Maddox, new director of facilities engineering program for the Reserve Naval Construction Force.

Admiral Brown, who in civilian life is president of Peter Brown Inc., General Contractors, is a former Seabee officer and a former commandant of the Naval Construction Battalion Center.

He was commissioned an ensign in 1962 and following graduation, served three years in various reserve officer positions.

He entered the inactive Reserve in 1965, serving as a detachment and battalion commanding officer, regimental commander and as a member of the brigade staff.

Just prior to assuming the top position, he served as director of the Facilities Engineering Program.

He is a licensed professional engineer and general contractor in Florida and a member of the Society of American Military Engineers.

The admiral is married to the former Capt. Nancy M. Brown of Fairport, Mass.

Admiral Dunlap's home is in Lubbock, Texas. He joined the U.S. Marine Corps in 1948 and with the close of the war, went to Texas Techological University in Lubbock, Texas.

He earned a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering and in December, 1953 he was commissioned an ensign in the Civil Engineer Corps (U.S. Naval Reserve). He served in various assignment until 1957 when he was recalled to active duty in April of that year and Admiral Dunlap was the Seabee battalion's commanding officer. He went to Vietnam and remained the CO until 1971.

At MCB 22, under his direction, was awarded the Meritorious Unit Commendation and the Navy Unit Commendation. The admiral was awarded the Legion of Merit and received the value. Since his release from active duty, Admiral Dunlap has served as commander, Ninth Reserve Construction Regiment and chief of staff for the FIRST RNC Brigade.

Admiral Dunlap is married to the former Riley Butler and they have one son, Roy Joe. Also participating in Saturday's event were the First Marine Air Wing Band, elements of the 20th Reserve Naval Construction Regiment, Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 1 and a host of other personnel in uniform.

ENERGY ANSWERS

from Mississippi Energy Extension Center

Q. How much more efficient than a conventional oven is a microwave?

A. That depends on how you're using the microwave and how you use your conventional oven, according to Frances Fortenberry, assistant to state leader, Extension Home Economics Programs and Extension housing specialist.

For most foods, the microwave is more efficient than a conventional oven. In fact, it's so efficient that it can cook a whole chicken in 30 minutes, while a conventional oven would take an hour or more.

Fortenberry says that the microwave is also more energy efficient than a conventional oven. It uses less electricity to cook the same amount of food.

Q. Can you get Legionnaires' disease from a swimming pool?

A. You don't say whether you're talking about a swimming pool or a hot tub.

Fortenberry says that Legionnaires' disease is caused by a bacterium called Legionella pneumophila. It is not found in swimming pools or hot tubs.

Q. How can I prevent Legionnaires' disease?

A. The best way to prevent Legionnaires' disease is to avoid swimming in pools or hot tubs that have not been properly disinfected.

Fortenberry says that the best way to prevent Legionnaires' disease is to avoid swimming in pools or hot tubs that have not been properly disinfected.

Q. How can I tell if a swimming pool is properly disinfected?

A. The best way to tell if a swimming pool is properly disinfected is to ask the pool operator for a copy of the pool's disinfection record.

ONLY GOD'S CHILDREN
GOD IS THE FATHER. God's children are members of His family. One must be born into God's family.

The Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of all men have been affirmed repeatedly by certain theologians in the past years. But surely not the teaching of the Bible.

According to the word of God, all men are created in the image and likeness of God. This is the teaching of the Bible.

Pharisees and Sadducees, religious leaders of the time, by telling their disciples that the Devil and not God was their father, John 8:44.

The Pharisees and Sadducees spoke of God as the father of a man, but they did not speak of God as the father of all men.

Even though this deeply religious man, dedicated to the study of an obscure law, the Law of God, he was necessary for him to be "born again" into God's family.

Man cannot bring about this new birth by his own efforts any more than a baby can.

The workshop is given by Sr. Mary Anne O'Brien, PhD and Sr. Therese O'Connor. The workshop will be from 1 to 4 p.m. To register, or for more information, call Beth Riley at 563-1888.

The vacation is for widows and widowers who would like to be a part of the Service Committee for "A New Life".

Greek Night In Bliox sponsored by Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Chapel is being held at the chapel on Beauvoir Road in Bliox. This menu specialty was prepared Saturday at the chapel on Beauvoir Road in Bliox. Feta cheese, Kalamata olives and olive oil and vinegar dressing will also be served. There comes Baklava Bank in "This Greek N plan for planned for Oct. 14 at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Convention Center.

One of the dishes at Greek Night that is gaining popularity is the Spinach pie or Spanakopeta.

These individual, cigar shaped pies are a combination of cheeses—the main one being the crumbled Greek Feta cheese which is made with goat's milk, graded Parmesan-Romano, cottage cheese and a trace of cream cheese; sautéed shallots and parley, eggs and lots of chopped spinach.

That filling is wrapped in paper thin pastry sheets that have been cut in rectangles of 4 x 12 inches, buttered and waiting to be filled.

Barbara Salloum will have this dish prepared on her Good Morning South Mississippi show on Oct. 13.

Katline Halkias, food worker in preparing some 1,100 individual spinach pies which will be frozen until the night of the dinner.

Other delicacies served at Greek Night will include Pastitsio, which is a layered macaroni with special ground beef filling sprinkled with cheese; another layer of macaroni topped with a white sauce (Krema) and more graded cheese; Ami Pato, which is boneless leg of lamb, marinated and roasted Greek style; and Rigani Koto, which is baked chicken with oregano, lots of lemon and special seasonings.

Dolmatoes, which are delicious, are stuffed grape leaves with a lemon-egg sauce and Greek salad which is lettuce, tomato wedges, celery, shallots, tossed with desserts of layered pastry sheets alternating with a layer of nuts, butter and honey.

A new member to the dinner menu this year is the home made bread, Tsourakia. The loaves will be on the individual tables, and passed around by those at a table of 10.

Prior to dinner being served hors d'oeuvres of Greek meatballs, Kefthetes; the delicious Flotopetas which are the individual cheese puffs; and Greek dip called Tzatziki will be served.

The hors d'oeuvres, along with cocktails, will be served beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Greek wine, red and white, will be provided at the dinner tables.

Tickets, which include all the items above, may be purchased at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Hancock

A home garden supplies vitamins, minerals and roughage in a fresh form. Additionally, some vegetables—green leafy ones and tomatoes—grow well indoors year-round as long as they have direct or reflected sunlight.

The freeze-drying method of storage should include only foods that you're used to eating.

Some items such as dried fruits, dehydrated eggs, legumes and pasta can be rehydrated and put into your diet, he says.

And don't dry foods just because drying is popular now," he says.

"Do it because your family likes to eat dried foods."

Ellsworth gives these home storage guidelines:

• Store a variety of foods that are readily available and regularly rotated.

• Rotate foods so you should supply your limited canned goods with even storage.
